MR. EDWIN—I should like to bring to the notice of a few, a fact. While the hockey match was in progress on Friday last there were a great many more people on the outside of the fence than within. There is a small word in the English language that represents the characters of the outside on-lookers, i.e. "mean," and for the edification of these individuals I cannot do better than give them Webster's definition of the word: "Mean, wanting in dignity of mind, low minded, base, destitute of honor, contemptible, despicable, of little value, loss in worth or estimation, worthy of little or no regard." Hoping this will catch the eye of those outside the fence.

Petter, who gave a selection on the piano, E. J. Cann, who accompanied the choir on the organ, Geo. Purches, who gave a selection and also accompanied on the violin, and E. Raymer, who sang, "Afterwards." The choir and its leader, Mr. Randall, are to be congratulated on the uniform excellence of their part of the performance.

KOOTENAY.

The BULLETIN is in receipt of a very interesting letter from C. M. Woodworth, barrister, late of Edmonton, now of Brandon, a new city in the Slokan district, under date of Jan. 30th. Mr. Woodworth says:

I have at last ended my travels in British Columbia and am settled here. This is a larger place than Slokan city at present and they are about a quarter of a mile apart. As Slokan city has the larger site I think it will have the larger boom. The place is more talked of in Kootenay than any other. At present, however, it is very dull.

I have been in Revelstoke, Nakusp, New Denver, Sandon, Kaslo, Nelson, Northport, Salmon siding, Rossland and Trail, and found all thriving. Revelstoke has a great future. The C. P. R. is against it, and are determined not to make it. Why? The rich Lardeau and Trout Lake country to the south, and the Big Bend to the north are tributary to it. A railway charter to Big Bend is applied for. Look at the map and see how easily the Yellow Head Pass could be reached from it. In establishing any warehouse at Revelstoke Edmonton folks should make arrangements with the C. P. R. for transshipment at same rates as if forwarded through.

Sandon is in the centre of more rich mines than any town in the Dominion. No one will ever make it their residence except for business. An enormous amount of Edmonton produce will continue to be used there. It will be a mining camp, not a city.

New Denver is prosperous and progressive. It is not over done in any line. It may become a city. The railway and boats have sidetracked it so far. I doubt if they can continue to do so. It is the seat of government offices for Slokan.

Kaslo cannot fail to be prosperous. Up the Kaslo & Slokan railway to Sandon, a large string of rich mines look to it for supplies. The stores are more finer, numerous and better supplied than those of any other Slokan town. Morally it is a sink.

Nelson is steadily prosperous. There does not seem to be so much of the boom and gouge element as elsewhere. Geographically I cannot see why it should be so important. But the government and C. P. R. make it their Kootenay headquarters. The Nelson & Fort Sheppard road made straight for it. No one dreams of the Crow's Nest road side-tracking it. Loan companies are willing to invest in it, wholesale houses locate there, and men who wish a sure thing invest there. Why? Numerous other sites would seem more convenient, more suitable for junctions and more certainly in the line of travel.

Salmon Siding is booming. Rich prospects are reported near. Lots are selling high. Trail and Rossland parties are engineering the deals. At present only a few barn looking shacks are standing there. It may be all right.

No working man should go to Rossland. Men are there asking for meals. Besides it is swarmed from Washington. All around lie immense quantities of low grade ore. But few of the mines can at present stand transportation and smelter charges. In my mind Rossland's future hangs on the Crow's Nest railway and coal, the general cheapening of transportation and smelter charges, and the continued influx of capital for development. The terrible hardness of the rock and the low grade of most ore makes this no poor man's camp. Some specialists praise the Rossland district very highly, while others condemn unspacingly. Throughout the rest of Kootenay, Rossland and Spokane boom methods bear the taint of suspicion. I fear that many an eastern investor will remember the name "Rossland" with sadness. This much is certain. The few great mines around it probably secure it from retrogression, and the great number of prospects and low grades probably assure it progress. At present it is a financial centre, where stocks are first to be had in Kootenay, and the Mecca of every adventurer into the Kootenay. However, as a stock market it is outdone by Spokane, even for Kootenay stocks.

Trail has a great smelter. Heinze, the C. P. R. and others think it will have more. One railway now taps it and the Columbia flows past it. Other railways seem probable. As a smelting, commercial and railway town I am inclined to place it high for the future.

Edmonton seems to have captured the oat market, or to be at least a very successful competitor, as far south as Trail.

P. Burns does the largest beef trade in the Kootenay. Southern Alberta is sure of this trade. It also will supply a great number of horses, and, perhaps nearly all, if present duty is kept on and transportation lowered.

Edmonton vegetables do not have the market. They cannot hope to, not because they are not high class nor because of the C. P. R., but because the exporters do not understand their business and won't learn.

Regarding Edmonton bacon and hams. These two facts are spoken of everywhere: Edmonton packers do not understand curing. Their meat appears shrunken. It is too salt. Miners do not wish to parboil.

Edmonton prairie hay is not wanted, or only at a reduced price. Blue joint will be taken at a higher price, but timothy is what is needed.

My remarks on vegetables will, perhaps, apply with variations to dairy products. But Manitoba and Northwest Territories creamery seems to have a good foothold.

In general the miner and prospector who pack their supplies up mountains for miles, know what they want and will not forgive a dealer who gives them something else. Price is no object. The local dealers understand this. Edmonton dealers do not and perhaps are surprised that the first order from Kootenay has been the last. Had that one order been satisfactory other orders would have followed and prices would not have been bantered about. Study the Kootenay trade. Fill each order exactly. Never substitute; it will not be forgiven. Organize, and continue to supply the exact article required at short notice without fail. Variation in the prices at Edmonton amounts to a small percentage of the cost when the goods are landed five or ten miles up the mountain from the nearest railway.

Railway rates in Kootenay are barbarous. If the C. P. R. build the Crow's Nest Pass railway, God help Canada. But they will build it. They are even surveying and preparing for next summer. Senator Cox and Robert Jaffray have the charter for the British Columbia Southern. I feel certain that the C. P. R. could build the Crow's Nest Pass railway without one cent of government aid, and coin money from it. So with the British Columbia Southern and Cox et al. Yet notice the insidious and judiciously expressed paragraphs that are appearing to the effect that without government aid the building of either of these lines is absolutely impossible. The plot is simple. The coal and oil lands of East Kootenay are one great prize for the promoter. The trade and traffic will be for the company when built, and the promoters do not realize a great cash value from that. But the plan comes this way. Railway will cost on an average $20,000 per mile prairie and all; $4,000,000 or more. Now the promoters will get the road for $40,000 per mile, $20,000 of which will be government aid, and $20,000 will be raised by bonding the road. The first $20,000 will build the road the next will be promoters' and contractors' profits in part, and will be supplemented by town site booms, the coal and oil fields, etc., etc. If the promoters remain in longer, water will take the place of stock. (see C. P. R. which will go bankrupt when appropriate). I fear that despite Rossland, Slokan, Boundary and East Kootenay, with MacLeod, Lethbridge, Regina, Calgary and Edmonton thrown in, the meaning of present movement is, "Railway monopoly."

ANGUS RIDGE. The olio in the Battle river school will be held on Thursday evening, 4th, March instead of Friday evening as announced.

Mrs. Wilson has been visiting Mrs. Thirk. Mr. Dowsell, one of the trustees of this district was formerly a teacher in Ontario.

Mr. Schantz has been appointed a magistrate. A letter received by your correspondent from Ivan, Ont., says that the weather was very cold there during the last week of January.

Jerry Boyce of Wetaskiwin is occasionally seen in our midst. He is one of the Wetaskiwin men who is full of business.

John Angus expects to leave for British Columbia in a short time. Bachelors are very plentiful here, even the teacher is on the list. It is expected that our Sunday school will soon begin. The gospel should not be neglected.

WETASKIWIN. A social gathering took place at the residence of Mr. T. Willows on Monday at which a pleasant time was enjoyed. The favorite pastime was indulged in until the small hours. All speak very highly of the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Willows.

Jas. Willows, who has spent the winter visiting his relatives west of Wetaskiwin, is soon to return to his home in Idaho, U. S. A.

We are pleased to be able to record "good times," at and around Wetaskiwin. The countenances of the farmers wear a pleased and satisfied look and the reasons assigned are; prosperity for the present and hope for the future. This has been the best year Wetaskiwin has ever known.

Count. Chas. Rodberg and bride took the Tuesday's train en route to Belgium, on a visit to his parents' home. Feb. 11, '97.
